INVITATION

BUSSOLA INSTITUTE WEBINAR:
COVID-19 PANDEMIC: IMPLICATIONS FOR EUROPEAN-GULF RELATIONS

Tuesday 9 June 2020: 1300-1400 Central European Time (CET)
Zoom Video Call

The Bussola Institute wishes to invite you to a virtual seminar focusing on the possible implications of the COVID-19 pandemic on the future of relations between Europe and the Arab Gulf.

The focus of the discussion will be on the economic, societal and strategic issues that will inevitably have to be addressed as societies in both regions start to regain their momentum and try to avoid a prolonged period of downturn.

The webinar will also consider other potential repercussions that may arise from the immediate measures being taken to overcome COVID-19 and consider them in the wider context of the EU-GCC relationship.

Speaker
Barry Andrews
Member of the European Parliament (MEP)

Speaker
Hoda Al Halaiqi
Member of the Shura Council, Saudi Arabia

Speaker
Dr Christian Koch
Director of Research, Bussola Institute

Moderator
John Dennehy
Secretary General, Bussola Institute

Questions

There will be an opportunity to submit questions to the speakers during the course of the event. These can be submitted during the course of the webinar via Zoom or they can be submitted in advance to: events@bussolainstitute.org